About This Series

3D packages can be a very effective tool in terms of creating thumbnail sketches for clients .

In this video I will be using maya to demonstrate how use basic primitives to create environments (though you can use any program that you like that has some kind of lighting in it)

From there we will take those basic block outs and paint over them!

This lesson will come with 1 video hour of basic modeling in maya , 1 hour video showing how to paint over the 3D block out , and a 30 minute "sped up" video of myself painting over two blocks outs with no commentary.
